City workers are busy this week bringing street markers up to date and residents are placing the new street numbers and mail boxes in front of their houses in preparation for the start of the delivery service, Jensen said.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Culberson and family of West Palm Beach spent Sunday in Pahokee with his mother, Mrs. Ada Culberson, and other relatives.

State Plant Board Has New Inspector

BELLE GLADE — Wilfred W. Smith of Fort Myers has assumed charge of the new plant inspection district created by the State Plant Board in the Lake Okechobee area. This new zone includes Glades and Hendry counties and the western half of Palm Beach County.

Although a regular inspection of plant nurseries is the principal function of the job, Smith will be responsible for the certification of all corn to be moved from the district, continued inspection for traces of the imported fire ant, and a regular check on traps set to attract a half dozen different fruit flies destructive to fruits and vegetable produced in Florida.

Mayor Explains Pahokee Budget

Mayor F. S. (Dick) Parrish explained the city budget to Pahokee Lions at their Tuesday luncheon meeting, telling of the various sources of revenue and how the money is spent for public services. He also gave a preview of some of the items that will appear in the new 1959-60 budget which will be introduced for approval by the City Council at its Sept. 28th meeting, and showed plans for the proposed addition to the city jail and fire station which is to be financed by revenue certificates issued on the franchise income from the Florida Power and Light Company. The speaker was introduced by J. H. Wilkinson, Jr., program chairman.

Many In Attendance At Vegetable Meet

Among those who attended the annual convention of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association at Miami Beach were Roy Vandegrift, Jr., FFAA president, and Mrs. Vandegrift, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Friend, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Apelgren, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Plumer, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holman, Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Aldridge, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Todd, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fraser and Roy Vandegrift, Sr.

BLANTON AND UNWIN LOW

Blanton and Unwin, Pahokee contractors, were low bidders on Tuesday of this week on a new bowling alley to be built at Vinegar Bend by Gay Hopkins of Belle Glade. The bid was a little over $125,000.00 and the Pahokee contractors were low by $24.00.

Court of Its Kind Ever to be Held in Western Palm Beach County.—State Representative Emmett S. Roberts and Delegation Passed 1959 Law Providing For Sessions In The Glades. County Commissioner Paul Rardin Asked By Petition for First Court To Be Formed In Palm Beach County.

"The Glades area of Palm Beach County is gradually coming of age," so said County Commission Vice Chairman Paul Rardin this week when he announced that Small Claims Court will be held in the new Glades Office Building in its first session on Thursday, October 29. Judge F. A. Currie of West Palm Beach and Judge of the Small Claims Court in Palm Beach County will hear the Glades cases. All Glades cases filed by October 9 can be heard on Oct. 29, Commissioner Rardin said.

In the 1959 legislature State Representative Emmett S. Roberts of Belle Glade was responsible for enactment of a new law which provides for holding sessions of the court in the Glades Office Building. County Commission Vice Chairman Paul Rardin is responsible for creation of a Small Claims Court in Palm Beach County, having acted after a petition was presented to him by a group of Glades merchants. The enabling act was made by state law which gave the county power to create such a court.

With a trial day the last week in every month an easy "rule of thumb" to remember would be that cases filed up to and during the first week in the month would be heard during the last week. The law requires that the defendant receive not less than ten nor more than twenty days' notice. Time must be allowed for serving the notice.

Cases may be filed at the Glades Office Building with Mrs. Mae Pope or at the County Court House with Miss Martha Procter, clerk. As to defendants who reside west of Twenty Mile Bend, the plaintiff may designate where the trial is to be held, either in the Glades or in West Palm Beach. The provision of the law passed in the recent session of the legislature making this possible states:

"When the plaintiff so desires, and when the defendant resides west of Range 40 in Palm Beach County, or outside of Palm Beach County, a suit against such defendant may be set for trial and heard at the Palm Beach County Glades Office Building."

Notices to appear will be printed on green paper for trials in the Glades. This will help the public in distinguishing at a glance where the trial will be and also avoid confusion in our two offices.

It is hoped to help as many litigants as possible to get together and straighten out their business affairs and small lawsuits. Judge Currie is determined to make this Glades operation as beneficial to the public as the court in West Palm Beach has proven to be. "I am proud of our excellent administrative staff, our clerks, who have made this possible in cooperation with the U. S. mail service, the constables and the sheriff's department," said Judge Currie.

Deputy Sheriff Paul Sokol will act as bailiff and accompany the judge to the Glades hearings. Miss Martha Procter will also attend the first hearings to assist Mrs. Pope.

State Prison Tour Set For Lawmakers

TALLAHASSEE — Prisons Director H. G. Cochran, Jr., has arranged for legislators on the interim committee on prisons to tour Florida's state prison system early in October.

The tour will allow committee members to familiarize themselves with operations and problems of the various institutions and to inspect construction work.

The tour will start at the Apalachee Correctional Institution. The next day the group will fly to the Belle Glade prison farm. From there they go to the Avon Park facility for minimum security prisoners and then on to the woman's prison and farm camp in Ocala. The tour will wind up at Raiford State Prison where a $6 million construction program is underway.

Ralph Jones New Treasurer of FFA

Ralph Jones was elected treasurer of the Pahokee Chapter, Future Farmers of America, and Junior Deas, secretary, at the first meeting of the new school year held in the agricultural building on the PHS campus. Twenty candidates for "Green Hand" degrees, all members of the Freshman Class, were among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Godwin (Imogene Carter) of Belle Glade announce the birth of a daughter, Tammy, at the Everglades Memorial Hospital, Sept. 21.

Blue Devils Meets Clewiston Tonight

Both the Pahokee Blue Devils and the Clewiston Tigers have a non-conference win to their credit as they square away on new Laif Field this Friday night for their first Suncoast tilt of the season. Coach Carl Ferraris' Tigers, who romped over the Okeechobee Brahams, 25-13, last Friday night, have been the leading jinx team for the Blue Devils for the past several years and are again favored to win in tonight's contest.

In their opener at home on Thursday night of last week Coach Web Pell's Blue Devils, sparked by their speedy halfback, Johnny Smith, worked hard to eke out a 6-0 victory over the Riviera Beach Green Hornets. Pahokee's touchdown came in the second period after Tackle Kyle Scott, Jr., recovered a Hornet fumble on their 30-yard line and Johnny Smith sailed around left end on the next play to go all the way for six points.

The Blue Devils threatened to score on two other occasions, reaching the Hornets' two-yard line at the half and the four in the last period before losing the ball on downs. Riviera Beach was stubborn on defense but was never able to get its offense rolling and did not threaten the Blue Devils during the entire game.

During the halftime period Bandmaster Robert O. Lampi's peppy Pahokee High School Band shared the spotlight with the four speakers who participated in the ceremony dedicating the new PHS athletic field on Larrimore Road. The speakers were County Commissioner Paul Rardin, School Trustee A. R. Harrington, County Superintendent of Schools Howell Watkins and Principal Brooks Henderson.

AT THE HOSPITAL

Many Members With Long Service Records Mark Extension Staff

When it comes to rendering long periods of dedicated, faithful service to rural and urban families of Florida, staff members of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service have an excellent record.

Recently the entire staff of state specialists and county and home demonstration agents held its annual conference at the University. When the organization of veteran extension workers—who must have at least 10 years of service to qualify—met, it was found that nearly a third of all staff members were in this group.

Nearly a third of all county and home demonstration agents and agricultural extension specialists in Florida have been working tirelessly from 10 to 35 or more years. They have been devoting their entire working time to serving other people—boys and girls in the 4-H clubs, farmers, farm families, urban people who need information about ornamentals, lawns and home problems, and others throughout the state.

Anyone familiar with the work knows that it is not easy, and thus this is not an attraction. Both county workers and state specialists attend many night meetings and are often away from home.

Those familiar with the work also realize that these workers never get rich off of their salary incomes. Financial remuneration is certainly not the thing that attracted them to the work in the first place, or kept them there after they started.

Many county and state workers stay in extension work only a few years, finding other employment less strenuous, more remunerative or other wise more appealing to the individuals concerned.

But those who stay in the work become enamored of the opportunity it offers for service to others and stay in for many years. They know they are helping young people to become better citizens through 4-H clubs; they are assisting farm families to improve their lots; they are helping the communities to become more beautiful and satisfying places to live; they are serving others unselfishly and without charge.

Patrol Leaders Named By Scouts

Mary Lee Adams was elected scribe of Girl Scout Troop 164 and Glynda Webb, treasurer, at the regular meeting at the Pahokee First Methodist Church. The troop was divided into two patrols. Willola Tyson was elected leader of the Viking Patrol and Connie Bacon, assistant leader, while Linda Douglas was chosen leader of the Nincompoop Patrol and Susan Graham, assistant leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Crews had as guests Saturday her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jensen, former Pahokee residents now living in West Palm Beach.

Country Papers Showing Progress

TAMPA—Tipping its hat to Florida's weekly newspapers, Florida Trend, a state executive magazine, points to the growth and development of small town newspapers as indicative of the state's overall progress and prosperity.

Based on data supplied by the Florida Press Association, Trend gives the combined circulation of Florida's weekly press as 311,935 today and shows the growth steady.

Five new weeklies were established in the state during 1953, three in towns that previously had no newspaper.

During the past few years a number of weeklies have expanded to become semi-weeklies or tri-weeklies while four have gone daily.

While greatest growth has been noted among papers published in coastal cities, inland communities are now developing at a faster rate justifying increased plant investment by local publishers.

Florida publishers, alert and progressive are building valuable properties, and national interest in Florida is causing investors to seek newspaper properties in this state.

Florida publishers of progressive newspapers constantly receive offers to purchase from brokers and individuals but few Florida papers are on the market. Usually the only opportunity to buy is when a publisher has reached the age of retirement or finds himself in ill health.

The trend story of the weekly publishing field, written by John Lippe, gives an excellent picture of the situation today and it should be of particular interest to business and industrial executives. The weekly newspaper is a powerful and influential medium and smart advertisers are beginning to find this out.

Miami Summer Business Is Best

MIAMI—Miami's summer tourist economy was the best in its 63-year history.

So says Lew Price, Miami publicity director, following a survey of area hotels, transportation and business facilities.

Approximately one and one-quarter million persons poured into the area during the late spring and summer months, Price added. Late in visitors, up for Miami shopping tours and in transit to northern points, numbered more than 250,000, the survey showed.

Pan American World Airways said the unrest in Cuba held its gain down to one per cent this summer. They flew 82,910 Latins into Miami. Charles F. Sharp, National Airlines vice president in charge of traffic sales, said his company's business was ahead some 15 per cent due to its economy fares and package flights.

The Miami Seagrass, a prime tourist attraction, reported a 20 per cent increase in summer sight-seers. Said C. H. Ball, general manager, "it was by far the best summer season since we opened."

Flamingo Leaves Cypress Gardens

WINTER HAVEN—You wouldn't think a flamingo visiting Cypress Gardens would want to leave such a tropical paradise, but one did.

The flamingo, on loan from Gatorland, another Florida attraction, was to appear in some motion picture being shot for television. But it took off in a fuzzy pink blur before the photographers could get it into focus.

Radio Station WOTO was requested to ask its listeners to watch for a lost flamingo. Several hours later the flamingo was reported being held at a gasoline station some 10 miles from Cypress Gardens. It seems a fisherman had brought it in and a Florida Highway Patrolman had called the radio station.

Minutes later an air-conditioned

Cypress Gardens station wagon picked up the fugitive flamingo to rush it back to location where cameramen, directors and actors were cooling their heels. None the worse for wear, the flamingo settled down to its fate, that of being a teleactor.

Trucks Will Carry The Story Of Citrus

LAKE LAND—A group of independent trucking companies whose refrigerated vehicles are seen in every state in the nation have agreed to write the cost of advertising Florida frozen orange concentrate by means of large posters on the sides of their trucks.

The truckers are cooperating with the Florida Citrus Commission and the Florida Canners Association during an intensive three-months promotional drive by frozen orange juice producers.

The group maintains about 1500 large, trailer-type refrigerated trucks which haul frozen juice from Florida to all markets in the nation. They will mount a three foot by four feet poster on each side of each truck advertising Florida frozen orange concentrate.

The colorful posters will tie in with the Citrus Commission's regular orange advertising theme, "Powerhouse of Vitamin C". The posters will be paid for by the truckers with the Commission's advertising department assisting in production of the display pieces.

Pick your savings target and shoot straight for it!

A home . . . financial security . . . a business of your own. Important savings targets like these cost money—a substantial sum—and more than most of us have. But here's a sure way for you to score a bull's-eye and walk off with the big prize you want.

The secret of saving is system. And the simplest, most automatic saving system ever devised is the Payroll Savings Plan. Best of all, you do more than save through Payroll Savings. You invest your money, too, and make it grow. Here's how it works:

Tell your company pay office how much you want to save each week. Then each pay period that amount will be put aside for you before you have a chance to spend it. Your money will go automatically into U. S. Series E Savings Bonds.

Because Savings Bonds earn good interest—3% compounded semiannually when held to maturity (9 years and 8 months)—they're soon worth much more than you've invested in them. And your Bonds will continue to pay this same good interest as long as 19 years and 8 months. That means a return of up to 80% more than you originally paid.

And remember this. There's no guesswork or chance about the Payroll Savings Plan. It's absolutely safe and sure. Invest just $7.50 a week. In 5 years you'll have Savings Bonds worth $2053 in cash; in 10 years, $4442.

Even if you've never been able to save before, this plan is guaranteed to work for you. So sign up today for Payroll Savings where you work—or invest in Bonds regularly where you bank.

Why we built two cars for 1960 . . . as different as night and day

On October 2—for the first time in Chevrolet's 49-year history—you will be able to walk into your dealer's showroom and see two totally different kinds of cars. ■ One is the conventional 1960 Chevrolet, brand new in appearance and more beautifully refined and luxurious than you can imagine. ■ The other is unlike any car we or anybody else ever built—the revolutionary Corvair, with the engine in the rear where it belongs in a compact car. ■ We'd like to tell you why we built two such different cars, how we built them—and for whom we built them.

Why two kinds of cars? Because America itself has been going through some big changes in the past few years. Our cities have been straining at their seams. Traffic is jam-packed. Parking space is at a premium.

And our suburbs have spread like wildfire. People are living farther from their work, driving more miles on crowded streets. There is new leisure time—but more things to do. There's a new standard of living—and more need for two cars in the family garage.

In short, America's automobile needs have become so complex that no one kind of car can satisfy them completely. That is why we at Chevrolet, keeping tab on these trends, have had a revolutionary compact car in the planning stages for more than nine years.

Thus, when we decided three years ago to prepare for production of such a car we were ready to build it the way it should be built. There was no need for a hasty "crash" program that would create only a sawed-off version of a conventional car.

That is why the two cars you will see in your dealer's showroom October 2 will be two entirely different kinds of cars. One is the conventional '60 Chevrolet—brand new in beauty, with new space inside, new spirit under the hood, a new feeling of sumptuousness and luxury never before attained by any car in its field. There is great V8 power linked with new thrift, plus Chevrolet's superb 6-cylinder engine. It is a traditional car that comes even closer to perfection—in silence, in room, in ease of control, in velvety ride—than any other car we have ever made.

The other is the Corvair, a compact car that is astonishingly different from anything ever built in this country. It has to be—because this is a six-passenger compact car, with a really remarkable performance . . . a car designed specifically to American standards of comfort, to American traffic needs.

The engine is in the rear. Among the basic advantages resulting from this engine location are better traction on a compact 108-inch wheelbase and a practically flat floor. But to be placed in the rear, the engine had to be ultra light and ultra short. So Corvair's engine is totally new—mostly aluminum and air cooled; it weighs about 40 per cent less than conventional engines. It is a "flat" horizontally opposed six—so it is only three cylinders long . . . and that leaves a lot more room for passengers.

Another weight saving: like modern airplanes, the Corvair has no frame; the body-shell supplies it great structural strength . . . it's a welded unit that is virtually rattle-free.

The ride is fantastic. But to get it we had to design independent suspension at every wheel; conventional springing would give a compact car a choppy ride. Right now we'll make one prediction: no other U.S. compact car will ride so comfortably, hold the road so firmly and handle so beautifully.

Now there are two kinds of cars from Chevrolet—because it takes two kinds of cars to serve America's needs today. If you love luxury—the utmost in luxury—and if you want generous interior space, breath-taking performance, automatic drives and power assists—then the conventional '60 Chevrolet may be your choice.

If easy parking, traffic agility and utmost economy are high on your list—then you should seriously consider the Corvair. But the best thing to do is to look these two new cars over at your Chevrolet dealer's . . . take them out for a drive. It may be that the only logical choice for your family between two cars like this is—both. They make a perfect pair.
